

Resolution Re Japanese From City Of Victoria Disturbs City Council

Alderman Miller Urged Kelowna Council to Give Further Consideration to Local Board of Trade Resolution, Stating He Considered It Had Been Handled Badly and from a Political Angle—Other Aldermen Disagreed and Mayor Attempted to Calm Brief Squall

A RESOLUTION from the City Council of Victoria regarding the repatriation of the Japanese caused a brief squall in the usual smooth sailing of the Kelowna City Council on Monday night. The Victoria resolution re-opened the subject which had been filed last week by the local Council, and Alderman Miller, who was in Vancouver when the matter was discussed by the local Council last week, took the opportunity of expressing his viewpoint on the action taken by the City Council.

The Victoria resolution endorsed the resolution favoring repatriation of the Japanese, and, in addition, urged that a plebiscite on the question be taken at the next federal election. When it was moved that the Victoria resolution be filed, Alderman Miller stated that he considered that when a resolution came to the Council from such a reputable body it should receive consideration. He said that he considered the handling of the Kelowna Board of Trade resolution by the Council had been done in a "terrible" manner. "It was," he said, "handled from a political angle and the way it was put off till the end of the year indicated that it was planned."

Mayor Pettigrew replied saying that it was his wish that the question be not discussed further because the Council had spent a lot of time on it. "I disagree," said Alderman Miller, adding: "The people have spent a lot of time on it. Certain aldermen saw fit to take a political view point on it."

The Mayor stated the discussion was out of order but Alderman Miller was not having it that way. Aldermen Hughes-Games and Newby entered the discussion, saying that it was the purpose of the Council to avoid anything political.

Alderman O. Jones moved that the letter from Victoria be filed, with Alderman Herbert seconding the motion.

Alderman Miller moved an amendment to have the letter laid on the table for a week. Alderman Ladd seconded the motion, which passed with Alderman Ladd, Newby and Miller in favor and Alderman Jones and Herbert against the motion. Alderman Hughes-Games did not vote.

"We have all the information needed," stated Alderman Jones, "which Alderman Miller replied, 'No, we haven't.' He added: 'There are other important matters coming up and the fact will be in the fire if things are given a political repatriation. Objection to the statement made by Alderman Jones was taken by Alderman Jones, who said: 'Our field is not political and we should keep it out of the Council. If we individuals, we want to take such action it should be in the Board of Trade. It was quite rightly turned down by the Council, and it should be left as it is and I resent a member who wasn't here wanting to open it up again.'"

Alderman Miller then said that the Council represents the city and should recognize such a responsible body as the Board of Trade.

The letter from the Victoria Council which opened the heated argument was as follows:

"That this Council hereby endorses the resolution passed by Kelowna Board of Trade on January 19, 1945, demanding the repatriation of Japanese origin, and that it be allowed to take with them to Japan any assets they may have here in Canada."

"That this Council urge on the Dominion Government, and the next federal election the opinion of the people be taken by way of a referendum on the question of what disposition should be made of the Japanese in Canada in the post-war period."

"That all Municipal Councils in B.C. be sent a copy of this resolution and be requested to give it their endorsement."

"That a copy of the resolution be sent to the Premier of British Columbia; and that the Federal member for this district be requested to make appropriate representations to the Council's behalf, pursuant to the resolution, to the proper authorities at Ottawa." Signed, M. F. Hunter, City Clerk, Victoria.

FIRE DESTROYS FOULDS HOME

Contents of Five Room Cottage Almost Completely Ruined

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Foulds, Vernon Road, just outside the city limits, was badly damaged by a fire on Thursday, March 1, at approximately 3:30 p.m., the contents of the five-room cottage being almost completely destroyed. It is assumed that the blaze was caused by an electric iron cord which is thought to have short circuited, although the iron was believed to have been turned off.

No one was home at the time the blaze broke out as the family had gone on a short motor trip into the country with a son, Jack Foulds, from the prairie, who was visiting his parents.

The flames were first noticed by a neighbor, Mr. Light, who called the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade, which responded immediately. By the time of its arrival at the scene of the fire, neighbors had managed to get the blaze under control.

The home was the property of Mr. Foulds and the damage was partially covered by insurance.

COUNCIL ASKS LAKE LEVEL BE LOWERED

The Kelowna City Council has written K. W. Morton, District Engineer, Federal Department of Public Works, at New Westminster, requesting, if possible, to have the level of Okanagan Lake lowered without delay to the minimum of 99.5.

JAPANESE PICTURE IS CLARIFIED

Fifty-Three of 103 Given Temporary Permits to Remain Here

Thirty-nine Japanese have left or are due to leave this area as a result of the recent visit of F. E. Briley, of the B.C. Security Commission, W. B. Hughes-Games, secretary of the Kelowna and District Security Committee, reports.

Of the 103 Japanese whose status in the district has been investigated, eight families totalling 36 persons and nine single persons have been permitted to remain on temporary permits. Seven families, totalling twenty-six persons, are due to leave and one single person.

Two families of five persons and seven single persons have already left. There are two families in Peachland, totalling eight persons, over which the local committee has no jurisdiction. They enter the picture because it was found that last winter they came into the area. They have, however, returned to Peachland.

There is one couple and one single person classified as "pre-war" Japanese who are at present in the district. These persons lived in the Vernon area before Pearl Harbor and are now free to move where they like, as the Security Commission has no jurisdiction over them.

Of the 103 Japanese investigated permits have been issued by the local committee to 53 to remain here and work during the season. These permits, as do all permits of Japanese who have come into the area since Pearl Harbor, expire on November 15th. All duration permits have been wiped out in this district.

Red Cross Aids Family That Had Fire

Kelowna branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society donated several pairs of A.R.P. blankets to the J. Ryder family, who lost their home and belongings in a fire which destroyed their home last week. In response to a request from the local branch, a quantity of underclothing for the eleven children in the family was forwarded here from the B.C. headquarters of the Red Cross Society in Vancouver.

LAKE FLOW INCREASED FIFTY PERCENT

Jumped to 600 c.f.s. on Monday — Engineer Writes Flow of Trade

The flow from Okanagan Lake into Okanagan River at Penikese was increased fifty per cent on March 5th, according to information given the Kelowna Board of Trade by K. W. Morton, District Engineer, Dominion Department of Public Works, under whose jurisdiction the lake level comes.

In a letter replying to the Kelowna Board's letter, Mr. Morton said that Mr. Faulkner of his office had gone to Penikese on February 27th and 28th and the lake level was then 99.85 feet or 35 feet above the agreed low level of 99.5 feet. Owing to complaints of flooding at various points in the Valley between Penikese and the boundary, the discharge from Okanagan Lake was reduced on January 9th from 600 cubic feet per second to 400 cubic feet per second. This was done to avoid the freezing over of grazing lands during the cold period.

The danger of serious freezing, Mr. Morton said, may now be considered as past and following his inspection, Mr. Faulkner gave instructions to raise the river on Monday, March 5th, to 600 cubic feet per second.

This will result in considerable flooding of grazing and hay lands between Okanagan Falls and Vaseaux Lake and also near Osoyoos Lake, but with the present condition of the river channel this is undoubtedly unavoidable.

Mr. Morton concluded by stating that the Board of Trade "may rest assured that the situation is, as always, being watched closely and every endeavor will be made to carry out the control in the best interests of the Valley as a whole."

On Monday night, the Kelowna City Council instructed the City Clerk to write Mr. Morton asking that the lake be lowered to the minimum as soon as possible.

Hostess Club To Cease Activities As Few Soldiers Coming Here; Not Enough To Warrant Continuing

Annual Meeting of Organization Decides to Suspend Operations at Least Temporarily—All Available Information Indicates Need of Club is Now Over—Little Activity During Past Six Months—Will Re-open Should Need Arise

The second local war organization to decide within a week to cease its activities is the Kelowna Servicemen's Hostess Club. At the annual meeting of that organization it was decided to suspend activities for the time being at least, and probably permanently. The decision was made after consideration of all the available information that could be obtained. During recent months the number of servicemen coming into Kelowna has been less than a mere trickle and not enough to warrant the functioning of the organization.

During recent weeks club officials have made every possible enquiry to ascertain whether or not this condition was likely to continue. It was on the basis of the information received that it was decided that activities should be suspended and the club closed. Should the necessity arise through an increase in the servicemen coming to Kelowna, the club will be re-opened, it is understood.

There is, it is understood, a real position of the organization's position by events.

The financial statement showed that the receipts for the year totalled $1,479.58, with $442.65 of this amount being carried over from the previous year. The tag day proceeds of $720.55 was the largest item on the list.

Expenditures amounted to $890.96, as reported by the treasurer, Mrs. C. D. Gaddes. $329.53 of this amount was for cleaning and janitor upkeep and $226.48 for club furnishings.

The bank balance is $588.72. This amount will be held until the Hostess Club position is finally clarified, if not used by the club, will probably be dispersed in some community project.

Mrs. Minnie Brown, chairman of the Entertainment committee, pointed out that the past year had been a slack one for the club, but chaparrons had been provided for all activities.

Miss Mabel Hall, president of the Junior Hostesses, reported that her organization had forty-one members and that during the past year, three parties had been held, all of Turn to Page 12, Story 1

The order also provides for the construction of houses built on $1,500 permits. Previously, permits for homes costing $1,500 or less could be cleared through the local City office with a $1,500 construction licence from Ottawa.

Three catches not previously reported were recorded on Feb. 28 by A. J. Gayler, Kelowna statistician. Archie Black, using a Stewart Wobler, landed a 16-pounder; G. Hale caught an 8 lb., 15 1/2 oz. fish on a No. 4 F.S.T., and Nelson E. Clow took a 5 lb., 12 oz. trout on a Gibbs plug. All the fish were caught off the south of Mission Creek. Clow's trout was just polishing off a sizeable meal when its ravenous appetite proved its downfall. A tail of another fish was protruding from its mouth when caught.

Altogether, a total of 27 fish were taken in February at Kelowna, with a season's total of 89.

Seventy per cent of the big fellows were caught on the Mission Creek and the other 30 per cent between Stirling's dock and Bear Creek.

A check shows that approximately 40 per cent of the fish recorded for Derby entries were taken on plugs and about 30 per cent on F.S.T. lures.

WAR VET OF 18 BACK HOME FROM 33 MISSIONS

P.O. R. W. Stewart Wants More Credit Given Canadians in British Press

ENLISTED AT 16 YEARS

Log Book Of Flying Operations Resembles Map of Germany in Names of Places Bombed

One of the youngest airmen in the R.C.A.F., P.O. R. W. Stewart, 18, of Kelowna, son of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Peter Stewart, Richter St., has arrived home after completing 33 trips over France, Belgium and Germany. He is an air gunner and celebrated his 18th birthday on a bombing flight over Hamburg. Now he is disturbed because he thinks the British press is not giving Canadians the credit that is due them.

He says: "The Canadian Navy, Army and Air Force are not receiving the credit they should in the English papers for their accomplishments. The British and American boys are getting all the publicity and it is creating a great deal of misunderstanding among our boys. They know they are considered Britishers but they want to be called 'Canadians' and have Canada receive honor for the big things the boys in all the services are doing over there."

Pilot Officer Stewart asserts that 35 to 45 per cent of the bombing raids on the Ruhr and that the Canadian Bomber Command has not yet been given the credit which is its due.

The young airman also says that people have the wrong idea about air gunners when they think that their only job is to shoot down aircraft. He explains that, when there are 500 or more planes in the sky at one time, as is often the case, there is a great danger of collision. The air gunner sights the air craft and informs the skipper and in this way saves the life of the crew. The top gunner always sees the planes above the aircraft and supplies the correct evasive action. The rear gunner is the only man in the craft who can see the actual extent of damage done to the target area and it is the technique of predicting flank and telling the skipper how to avoid it, says Stewart.

This young, good looking lad is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 158 pounds. He has steady, bright blue eyes that never waver when he is looking at you, and his hands remind one of those successful surgeons with long, tapering, sensitive fingers.

Early Returns Show Generous Response To Red Cross Call

About Twenty Per Cent of Objective of $25,000 Reached in First Two Days of Canvass, Secretary Reports—Belgo District Far Over Its Quota and Has Increased Last Year's Giving by Fifty Per Cent—Canvassers Report Many Real Sacrifices to Assist Work of Great Humanitarian Organization

Belgo Average $21.00

A HURRIED check on Wednesday indicated that about $4,500 had been collected in the two-day-old Red Cross campaign in the Kelowna area, according to a statement made by E. W. Barton, secretary of the campaign. This amount is approximately twenty per cent of the $25,000 objective which C. R. Bull, campaign chairman, has indicated for the district. While many of the canvassers have been on their territories, others have not yet started and those who have done considerable canvassing have not been able to report to their team captains, as call backs are necessary in some cases.

There is, however, every reason to believe that the average citizen is responding more readily and more generously than ever before. This seems to be a general impression among the canvassers. It is thought that the fact that there is now fighting in Europe, when there wasn't at the time of the last campaign, has had an effect. Then, too, there is a constantly growing appreciation of the work the Red Cross is doing, not only on the battle fronts, but also for the prisoners of war.

One district, the Belgo, has practically finished its canvass and has increased its last year's figure by fifty per cent. Last year the Belgo gave $765. This year on Wednesday night there had been collected in that district $1,155.95. It is hoped this fine figure will be increased a little more. Belgo's average subscription was $21.05. Reports from all areas indicate that there is a ready response to the canvassers. Many people have their checkbooks ready and written, and most people are upping their last year's subscription somewhat. It is noticeable that even the small givers are trying to provide at least one parcel for a prisoner of war, costing $2.75.

There are many interesting stories coming from all sides. One canvasser called upon a shack in a rural area. The amount donated last year was $10. This year it was $100, well forthcoming.

Another canvasser tells of the gift of $5.00 from an airman who had lost his arm but had a great admiration for the work of the Red Cross. He had seen in Europe. Canvassers are also obtaining insight into housing conditions in Kelowna. One canvasser started out thinking that he had five names to call upon. Checking his district, he found that instead of five, he had eleven. One house contained five families; another three. And so it is, apparently, all over the city.

C. R. Bull, campaign manager, on Wednesday, appealed to call canvassers to finish their calls as speedily as possible.

He said he was entirely optimistic that the people of the Kelowna district would give the requested $25,000 to relieve the suffering throughout the world. "We have been very fortunate," he said. "The war has brought real sacrifices and little actual suffering to us. We should show our thankfulness through the helping of others, and this can be done in no better manner than through the Red Cross."

Arrangements are being made to have representatives of the small fruit growers of the Fraser Valley and Vancouver Island meet.

Tuker and also representatives from the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association in the Interior. President A. G. DesBrisay, of the B.C.F.G.A., and President, A. K. Lord, of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited, may go to the Coast to join in the reception of the delegation, and it is expected Mr. Tuker will visit the Okanagan Valley, while other members of the delegation will be taken to such areas as they may indicate.

GRANTED ROOMING LICENCE

Licence to operate the Central Apartments was granted J. G. Morrison by the City Council Monday night, on receipt from the latter of a letter stating willingness to cooperate with the city in bringing the quarters up to a better standard over a period of time.

FINED FOR ACCEPTING LOOSE GAS COUPONS

R. Zimmerman, of Okanagan Mission road, was fined $25 plus costs in District Police Court on Tuesday for accepting loose gasoline coupons from a customer. This was in contravention of the Oil Controller's orders prohibiting the delivery of gasoline otherwise than upon the surrender by the customer of valid coupons at the time of delivery.

Kelowna Man In Prison Camp Gets Red Cross Parcel Christmas Day

W.O.R.S. Walters Sends Description of Yule in German Camp

Christmas Day for W.O.R.S. Walters, R.R. 3, Kelowna, which was spent in a German prison camp, was made bright by the arrival of a Red Cross parcel. This information was received in a letter this week by Mrs. Walters and was written from Stalag 1VD, to which he has been moved from Stalag IVB.

The letter, written on December 25, 1944, says in part: "I will tell you how I spent 'Christmas. Last night, Christmas Eve, after supper we started a sing-song that kept up till about midnight. It finally turned into a dance, as we have quite a good orchestra, mouth organ and all. Of course you realize we have no women, so we cut cards to see who would dance as the lady. Of course I lost and danced in French, Serbian, Italian and Belgian style and the Lord knows what else. That kept up till about 2 o'clock—then to bed. This morning we prepared our Christmas dinner. We had half an American Red Cross parcel each, so it wasn't too hard to do. We had soup, sardines, sausages, turkey, peas, spuds, carrots and pudding. This afternoon I went skating and did enjoy it, so I had a pretty good day but must work tonight."

The above letter is just one more testimony of the great work which is being carried on by the Red Cross for those who are members of the fighting services.

"Meant Everything To Us"

Since the beginning of the war the Canadian Red Cross has packed and shipped some thirteen and a half million food parcels for Empire and Allied prisoners of war. From the repatriated comes the statement, reiterated many times: "If it hadn't been for the Red Cross parcels we'd have starved to death."

With the war in its last stages and confusion and terror reigning in Germany, there is no doubt that the men in enemy camps must depend on the stores of food sent from Canada until they are free and repatriated.

This lifeline of nourishing foods must be kept intact and the six large packing plants of the Red Cross in Canada must keep their conveyor belts rolling if our fighting men are to return alive and in good health.

The Red Cross has come to mean the difference between life and death; between monotony and variety; between semi-starvation and some degree of satisfaction; to the lads in camps that cover the sprawling map in Germany.

Many of these men have spent five years behind barbed wire. They have come to depend upon Canadian Red Cross for food and comforts, for studies, sports equipment and musical instruments, medical supplies and contact with their folks at home.

From Patrick W. Moynihan, Pilot Officer and Air Gunner, has come this letter: "During my travels I have met many ex-prisoners of war. Many of them were not Canadian troops but of the British Forces. I've promised to convey their deep appreciation of your help to them."

"I was strolling along the deck of a certain ship when an Indian soldier stopped me, having noted 'Canada' on my shoulders. I quote this soldier: 'Please, sir, will you thank the Canadian Red Cross and the people of Canada for their kind gifts. If those Red Cross parcels had not arrived, I doubt if I would have lived. You must have a wonderful country'."

"It's been the same with Aussies, Kiwis, Canucks and British," concludes Moynihan's letter.

"Those parcels meant everything to us," Flt. Lt. G. R. Patterson of Kelowna said last week when he returned, after months in a German hospital.

Canadian Red Cross is asking for $10,000,000 in March to keep up all its manifold services. Food parcels rank high on the list. Make sure there are enough to go around. Give a little more this year to the Red Cross.

Hitler explains that he has indeed an all-devastating secret weapon, but that he is saving it for an emergency.

Canadians' Task Vital

During the past ten days the Canadians have made progress in their attack on the hinge of the whole German line and it is significant that, as at Caen in Normandy, the troops from this Dominion have been given one of the most important tasks of the whole Allied offensive.

This fact has been borne out by the stiff defence the Germans put up in the Canadian sector, by comparison with that on the American Ninth and First Army fronts. The Germans appear to have had orders to hold out at all costs in the Canadian sector, and to obeying them. Whether this can last, is another matter. It is now thought that most of the enemy's reserves are committed, often in small battle groups. That is the sort of situation which may lead to a sudden break at any time.

In spite of the very limited territorial gains made by the First Canadian Army, it has, nevertheless, taken a surprisingly large number of prisoners—15,500 since February 8th. This is all the more remarkable since the Canadians have been opposed by the very best troops the Germans had.

Peace was when the hotels put out the mat with the welcome side up.

The Old Order Changeth

An American officer cruising the Atlantic in the Queen Mary asked why the British did not build a fine ship like her. Nothing could make him believe that such a vessel could be built anywhere but in the United States. The yarn seems incredible, but we happen to know it is true. Amusing as it is, it is not as funny as the observation of an American soldier who was riding in a train through Herefordshire and said to a friend: "Say, these Britishers have got some of our cattle here." Having been raised in the Middle West, where Hereford cattle are common, he apparently did not know that the original breeding stock came from England.

English folk and Canadians are just as ill informed about the United States. Forty years ago it was a common sight to see British immigrants carrying revolvers and hunting knives as protection against Indians they expected to meet in Canada! Educated Englishmen were no better informed about the Canadian climate. The British Medical Association once sent to the annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association a distinguished surgeon. The convention was held during a midsummer heat wave in Toronto, and some of the packing cases the delegate brought with him were labelled "Protect from frost!" When he reached Toronto the temperature was 95 in the shade. An educated Englishman recently was asked where the Rocky Mountains were, and replied that they formed the boundary between Canada and the United States.

When Premier Aberhart, of Alberta, was at the peak of his power a Detroit editor telephoned his Ottawa correspondent to step out to Edmonton and interview the Father Coughlin of the plains. He had no idea that Edmonton was 2,000 miles from Ottawa.

Happily, the friendships forged by the American, Canadian and British soldiers on the fields of war are making for better understanding among peoples of common ancestry. "Hands across the sea" is an old shibboleth, but it is being made a reality by the Anglo-American alliance. Events are shaping our destiny. Great Britain and the United States will be pillars in the structure designed to bring order out of the present chaos. The mistakes and the misunderstandings of the past will exist only in the memory, and will seem like "old, unhappy, far-off things, and battles long ago."

Our per capita sugar allowance is being cut down two pounds a year. About the amount some people leave in their cups.

The A.R.P.

The first of the local war organizations to cease its functions was the Civilian Protection Committee or, as more familiarly known, the ARP. Last week the local group along with the other groups throughout the Interior was officially disbanded.

The ARP never did perform its whole function, and for that we can be thankful. The fact remains, however, that during the dark days of 1942 and 1943, when it appeared that British Columbia might be the target for an air attack, the organization was ready to perform its allotted task. The realization that this was so brought comfort to the minds of many uneasy citizens, and this alone was sufficient reason to justify the existence of the body.

But it is not an easy matter to organize and train and sacrifice leisure just to be prepared to meet some emergency which might or might not come. For this reason the men of the ARP deserve the thanks of the community as expressed publicly last week by His Worship the Mayor. The men of the ARP would probably be the last to say they deserve any words of commendation; they would say that they had fun in the work, learned much about fire fighting, first-aid and kindred subjects, and obtain some satisfaction from the knowledge that they were ready to meet an emergency should it arise.

The ARP did not function in an emergency. Had the fortunes of war gone just a little more against us, the ARP would have been one of our principal sources of strength. This, fortunately, did not occur, but the fact remains that the ARP performed a community service of no mean measure in being prepared to meet anything that might occur.

Nowadays the landlord who thinks he is an irresistible force meets his match in the tenant who is an immovable body.

The Hostess Club Closes

The Kelowna Servicemen's Hostess Club, on Tuesday night, decided to cease functioning at least temporarily. This step was taken after every effort had been made to ascertain from those in a position to have some sound basis for their opinion whether or not the need for the local organization would be revived here during the coming months. As a result of the investigations, it was decided that a temporary closing, at least, was advisable. Should the need arise, the organization will be reorganized.

The closing of the Hostess Club marks the disbandment of the second local war organization in two weeks, the ARP having been officially wiped out last week. The Hostess Club has performed an extremely useful function in this community during the past four years and those who carried on the arduous duties it entailed performed a real community service.

The Hostess Club was organized to provide a place for men on furlough from the Vernon camp to meet and read and write and spend their time in this city. In short, the main purpose was to keep the men off the streets; to give them something to do, thus preventing them from getting into the mischief so easily found by idle hands and preventing disagreeable incidents happening here. That Kelowna has been singularly free from such "incidents"—surprisingly so in view of the number of servicemen who have spent weekends here—can be attributed to a great degree to the activities of the Hostess Club. This fact is readily acknowledged both by the Vernon Camp authorities and the local police.

Soon after its formation, it was seen that other lines of activities were desirable and the billeting arrangement was formed and the junior hostesses organized. There then followed the obtaining and equipping of the present club rooms.

Unless one has been actively associated with the organization, one can have no conception of the number of men who used the facilities of the organization, or the hours of work which the women and girls put in. Every weekend a group of women had to be present at the club, and this meant breaking into their usual Saturday and Sunday programs, which in many cases meant a real sacrifice. Their contribution is to be commended. The junior hostesses, too, provided assistance to the organization which assisted materially in its successful functioning. Orchids also should go to those citizens who billeted servicemen. They formed a loyal group who recognized that providing of beds for the men was more than mere kindness, it was a step towards keeping Kelowna a happy city.

Directly the Hostess Club served Kelowna well in another manner. Through it a very favorable impression of this city was given actually hundreds of men from other parts of Canada. Letters received by men who had used the organization are vocal testimony to this fact. The Hostess Club during these war years has been one of Kelowna's best forms of publicity.

The intensification of feeling a few months ago about the "Zombies" brought a small cloud to the skies of the Hostess Club as those who felt most bitter argued that the Club should confine its activities to General Servicemen only. This criticism generally came from those who were not active in the organization and who did not appreciate the primary function of the organization; they who criticized failed to realize that

"Zombies" on the loose could or would cause as many or more unpleasant incidents than G.S. men.

Acting upon the best available advice, the Hostess Club has decided to suspend its activities. It should not be allowed to pass out of existence without some public tribute being made to those women who gave much of their time and energy in seeing that it operated successfully in the general interests of the community. Of all the local war organizations the Hostess Club held an almost unique position as its activities were not only in the interests of the army personnel but also had a definite local significance.

Face and Fill

German black bread is black, synthetic and composed mostly of sawdust, according to a civilian internee returned from a prison camp in France. The loaves are round, about the size of a plate and 2 1/4 inches thick. For one person per day, the quota is one quarter of a loaf. At noon a plate of cabbage is doled out and in the evening a ration of grease, margarine or vegetable. The only breakfast served is a cup of synthetic fluid supposed to resemble coffee. To supplement this deficient diet the Canadian Red Cross sends out each week an eleven-pound parcel. Returned prisoners have stated without reservation that these parcels certainly saved their lives.

British Science Makes Bombing Accurate

The story of the debts of the Allied Air Forces to the inventions of the United Kingdom scientists cannot yet be told fully, but the few details already released indicate the amazing ingenuity of British aids to navigation and accuracy of attack.

The Air Ministry has just released details of a "distant reading compass" devised at the Royal Aircraft Establishment at Farnborough by the late E. Byrnes, developed by a team of his colleagues, including C. J. Stewart and Air-Vice Marshal R. O. Jones, and produced by the Automatic Telephone Co. of Liverpool, and Feranti of Manchester. This "D.R." compass gives accurate readings in all conditions, for example, when the aircraft is taking evasive action, or flying in high altitudes, or when an ordinary magnetic compass, which demands a straight and level course, cannot be used. The "D.R." compass also operates other instruments automatically; for example, the Mark XIV bombsight, and the automatic pilot, and is not affected by the vibration of firing cannon, or by violent variations in speed.

The Mark XIV bombsight, itself a British invention, used since May, 1942, has also considerably reduced the risk for aircraft making bombing attacks. Earlier bombsights required a straight and level course for operation. The Mark XIV has an automatic "compass" that makes the necessary calculations, taking into account the speed and direction of wind, air speed, and ground speed, and height of the plane. The results are that even when a bomber is taking evasive action over a heavily defended target, accuracy of bombing can be achieved. This bombsight was used, not only in the great battles of the Ruhr, Hamburg, and Berlin, but also for precision attacks on French lines in France when it was essential not to endanger French lives. This British bombsight is used in American planes under the name "T1."

Another marvel of British ingenuity is the gyro gun-sight for fighters, produced at the Ministry of Aircraft Production Experimental Establishment, by a team of scientists headed by Professor Sir Melville Jones. This incorporates a gyro-computing device and all the pilot has to do to it, is to make two simple adjustments—affected by a twist grip embodied in the throttle control—for range and the type of aircraft to be attacked. With a gyro gun-sight the pilot can be sure of registering hits even at a maximum speed and range.

Perhaps the most sensational of these British inventions—even now the details are not fully released—is the "magic eye" devised by Sir Robert Watson Watt, the inventor of radiolocation "radar." This enables bombs to be aimed accurately in darkness or through clouds in conditions when visual bombing is impossible, and at the same time enemy fighter interception difficult. The "magic eye" applies attack principles that radio-location originally developed for defence. Electrical impulses sent out from the plane "bounce back" from the ground and are received on a glass screen where they form a "pattern" of objects on the ground. Bombs can, therefore, be accurately directed even on a target that is invisible. All these inventions were made available to the American Air Forces. Thus, all Fortresses and Liberators of the American Fifteenth Air Force have used the "magic eye" since August 1944. It is estimated that hundreds of United Kingdom, Dominion and American airmen's lives have been saved by the fact that this device makes bombing possible when enemy opposition is least effective.

Throughout the war the most able scientific minds in Britain have been working to produce devices to ensure accuracy in navigation and attack. It is of particular interest to note that the object has not been to make air attack automatic, in contrast to the Germans, who, unable to match the flying skill of R.A.F. personnel, have abandoned the use of human element and resorted to flying bombs and rockets, with a consequent sacrifice of accuracy. British pilots must still be highly skilled men, but skill is less and more and more to be concerned with making intelligent and rapid use of intricate instruments. After the war these British devices and those who have become skilled in their use will be available for the benefit of civil aviation of the whole world.

"J. E. Reekie, of Margaret, Man., who had been visiting his brother, Jas. Reekie, since Friday, left on Tuesday for a trip to the coast. He expects to be back here again with his family in a couple of months and will make his home in Kelowna."

"A small townsite is being laid out on the Rutland property recently purchased by a Kelowna syndicate. It is thought that a few stores and other business places will locate there in order to accommodate the trade in that portion of the valley."

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Thursday, February 25, 1915

"The Creamery Committee of the Farmers' Institute held a meeting on Saturday last and, after considerable discussion, decided that a start should be made with the project as soon as possible."

At the annual meeting of the Kelowna Conservative Association, held on February 23rd, with over a hundred in attendance, the following officers were elected: Honorary President, H. W. Rayner; President, J. W. Jones; First Vice-President, R. C. Copeland; Second Vice-President, W. R. Pooley; Secretary, R. F. Morrison; Treasurer, J. A. Bigger.

"The local applicants for enrollment in the 48th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, forming part of the Third Canadian Division, were examined on Monday by Capt. Archibald, Canadian Army Medical Corps, regimental surgeon of the 102nd Regiment, R.M.R. The physical test is very thorough, and the whole morning and part of the afternoon were consumed by the work. Several men were rejected on account of failure to come up to the strict standards for teeth and eyesight, but so many had applied that two men were passed as spares in addition to the ten men to fill the maximum quota allotted to Kelowna. As soon as the ten passed the medical examiner they were sworn in by Capt. Rose, who was in attendance to aid Capt. Archibald in the clerical part of the work. The names of those who will uphold the honor of Kelowna in the Third Canadian are: Sgt. John McMillan, Corp. G. N. Kennedy, R.M.R., E. C. Hoy, all original members of 'E' Company, 102nd Regiment, Rocky Mountain Rangers, on its organization strength of the Company is 42 of all ranks, and including those who have been transferred to the various contingents or have been discharged, 85 have signed the service roll since Sept. 5th, 1913. Including the large number who have joined the 30th B.C. Horse and others who have enlisted in the Army Service Corps, Army Medical Corps, the Royal Navy, or have rejoined the colors as reservists, Kelowna seems to be doing its share towards bearing the burdens of Empire."

"By authority of the Provincial Game Conservation Board, two cock and four hen pheasants were shipped to Prince Edward Island yesterday by Game Warden Sullivan. It will take seven days for them to arrive at their destination."

"Motor traffic to Summerland, which was interrupted from Saturday to Monday owing to a large slide having occurred at Crescent Beach, was resumed on Tuesday, the highway having been made passable by the provincial road gang. On Tuesday evening, however, another slide occurred and the road is again blocked."

"Fisheries Overseer G. N. Gartrell, accompanied by Capt. H. E. Creech, of Summerland, arrived in the city yesterday morning and planted 20,000 Eastern brook trout eyed eggs in Mission Creek, above Eight Mile Creek, proceeding to Bear Creek in the afternoon and placing another 20,000 eyed eggs of the same species in that stream. Mr. Gartrell also stocked the North Fork and the West Fork of the Kettle River before coming to the Okanagan."

The following officers for 1925 were installed by Past District Deputy Exalted Ruler R. J. Gordon at a meeting of Kelowna Lodge No. 52, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Immediate Past Exalted Ruler, C. B. Latta; Exalted Ruler, J. E. Weisler; Esteemed Leading Knight, Norman DeHart; Esteemed Loyal Knight, F. Paul; Esteemed Lecturing Knight, C. W. Lees; Treasurer, D. Currell; Secretary, H. F. Chapin; Inside Guard, W. G. Scott; Outside Guard, Morton Paige; Esquire, T. Treadgold; Chaplain, F. H. Hill; Historian, J. W. Jones.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, February 28, 1935

With one voice, representatives of the Boards of Trade of the Okanagan, assembled at a dinner-meeting in the Royal Anne Hotel on Friday night, February 22, under the auspices of the Kelowna Board of Trade, demanded inauguration by the Provincial Government of an annual program of permanent work on the highways and cessation of the practice of useless frittering away of public funds in forms of maintenance that do not last. The demand was contained in a resolution moved by H. W. Galbraith, Vernon, and seconded by G. A. B. Macdonald, Penticton.

The touring Famous Players, Kelowna's crack Senior B basketball team, won three games of seven played in the State of Washington and tied with the Spokane Freemans in another, thus breaking even on games won and lost. On the homeward journey, they played the final game of their tour at Trail, winning by one point, 37-36.

At the fortnightly dinner-meeting of the Kelowna Gyro Club on February 26th, Dick Seeley, the Wilson Landro youth who saved the lives of two Armstrong boys trapped in a submerged car at the Westbank ferry, on February 10th, was presented with a gold watch, the gift of the citizens of Armstrong, and a club bag and a purse of money, contributed by the people of the Kelowna district through the medium of the Gyro Club, in recognition of his gallantry.

At the annual meeting of the Kelowna District Conservative Association, on February 22nd, the following active officers were elected: President, H. B. D. Lyons; First Vice-President, W. A. C. Bennett; Second Vice-President, H. C. S. Collett; Secretary, W. B. Bredin; Treasurer, D. K. Gordon.

Reports submitted at the annual meeting of the Kelowna Creamery, Ltd., on February 22nd, revealed that the average price paid for butterfat in 1934 was fifteen per cent better than in 1933, while cream producers also received an additional cheque equal to ten per cent of the value of their cream shipments from January to November. A dividend at the rate of $5 per share was paid. The Board of Directors was re-elected en masse, including W. R. Powley, President; Geo. S. McKenzie, Vice-President; D. K. Gordon, Secretary-Manager; W. R. Barlee and J. Spall.

WITH MARCH HERE it means that local enthusiasts are already swinging their clubs on their front lawns if not on the links and some of them for all I know may have been out there. But anyway, the advent of March would seem to be a good excuse for telling a golf story or two. While there are thousands like myself who do not play the game, most of them are interested, nevertheless, in the odd little things that happen whether it be on a golf course, or in a kitchen. Jamie Anderson looked blue. He was British. Open champion and was bunkered at Prestwick's famous "Burn Hole." His chances of retaining the title looked slim. This was in 1878. He scrambled the ball out and was still a full iron from the green. Anderson knew his position was precarious and it was with some nicety he played. The handful of spectators gasped when the ball hit the green and disappeared into the hole. His iron shot on the next hole was not so accurate. It finished 45 feet off the flag; but Jamie rumpled home that mighty put. Little wonder that in his excitement the champion at the 17th hole teed his ball outside the official teeing ground. Quietly the marker called his attention to an infringement which would have caused disqualification. With a nod, Anderson picked up his ball and re-teed it. Then he played the most dramatic stroke of all for at this short hole he holed out in one.

r p m

LUCK? One wonders. Certainly the most amazing sequence of events in the whole history of the British Open Championship for they enabled Anderson to retain his title by a margin of one stroke. And he won it again the following year to make it three in a row. But it has been said that anything can happen and most everything does happen in a big golf tournament. It was, for instance, a hole in one which brought the British Open title to this side of the Atlantic for the first time. In his first round at St. Andrews in 1921, Jock Hutchison, former St. Andrew, who had made good in the United States, holed out in one at the eighth hole. He tied for the title with amateur Roger Wethered, although he had actually played one shot more. The explanation of this is that Wethered stepped on his ball and was penalized one stroke. Hutchison won the replay and brought the trophy to this side for the first time. . . . And here is a curiosity about the famous St. Andrews course, which few realize. Although the championship has been competed for there not fewer than 15 times, only two Englishmen have won it. J. H. Taylor was successful in 1895 and again in 1900. No other Englishman won it at St. Andrews until Dick Burton beat American Johnny Bulla by a short head in 1939. . . . Some players dedicate their whole life to winning even a local golf competition and grow old without achieving success. On the other hand A. J. T. Allan, Edinburgh University student, bicycled to Muirfield every morning of the match, did not even bother to change his shoes, yet won the Amateur Championship.

WHEN A PLAYER says he has gone around the course "in fours" he means an average of four strokes per hole, or a total score of 72. Ben Sayers, one of the smallest professionals in the game, told an American opponent that he went around the Royal Burgess course "in fours", and took a handsome bet he would do it against his U.S. rival. Just as he was starting, the American pulled a fast one. He reminded Sayers the bet was "fours"—and neither a five nor a three is a four. He insisted that Wee Ben had actually to do each hole in four. The little Scot was furious. There were eight bogey five holes on the course and the task set him would have dismayed anyone. But an angry Scot is a determined one. Ben did his four at every hole and collected the stake with malicious delight. There is, no other known case of a golfer having done four at every hole for a wager. . . . Golf has given rise to some odd bets. Here is one that seems doubly odd in these days of restricted supplies. A scratch member of a south of England club undertook to play a big handicap man on level terms, but to handicap himself by drinking a whiskey and soda on each tee. For the first nine holes the par player was in rampant form, but the "handicap" began to tell. He still held a one-hole lead when he went on to the 16th tee; but after he had fulfilled his obligation there he collapsed and had to be removed from the course. . . . A hole-in-one becomes a bagatelle when a player has done a whole course—and a championship course at that!—in a single stroke. Some years ago a novice set out at Carnoustie to drive into the teeth of a westerly gale. He hit an atrocious slice. The ball spun out to the adjoining 18th green and, driven by the wind, rolled back into the hole. From first tee to 18th hole in one stroke—an all time record!

READERS OF THIS COLUMN who knew London's Mayfair before the war will remember those two big china elephants that used to dominate a window in South Audley Street. They belonged to Messrs. Thomas Goode, the china and glass shop, and they were a landmark known to every taxi-driver. Each was four feet high, brightly colored in turquoise blue, and each elephant was complete with a howdah. Now the window where they used to stand has been broken in the raids and boarded over. But the elephants are undamaged. They have been taken out of London until the war is over. They were made for the Paris Exhibition of 1878 and have been with the firm for more than forty years. I was told in London a year ago, that they really are not for sale although an offer of $15,000 might be considered. An offer of $10,000 was once made for them—and refused. They are very heavy. Complete with their packings they weigh one and a half tons.

AMONG THE SOUVENIRS drifting back from Germany are many interesting bits which throw a little more light on German intentions. Some such souvenirs are copies of a map captured in German schools, showing that a big slice of Canada was marked as German territory. The entire United States, a strip of Canada bordering the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes, the wheat-producing prairies and the British Columbia coast was labelled "Germanen", with all territory to the north marked "Noordamerik Indianen". In South America Hitler apparently had planned provision for his Axis partner. Coastal regions there were labelled "Romanen". The British Isles, Norway and Sweden and all countries on the northern section of the European continent were German, while Italy received Spain and Southern France. However, on the map there was no actual dividing line between the lands taken over by Germany and those which the Italians were to occupy. The Balkans were divided among the former Nazi satellites, while Africa, Australia and New Zealand were marked for German control. They gave Japan only a small coastal section of China and a few islands south of Japan itself.

Someone the other day was moaning that the returning soldiers will be grieved when they find that their girls have not waited for them. But we think that they will cheer up when they see the new crop which has matured during their absence.

Pte. Lt. R. G. HERBERT
D.F.C. and Bar

The citation for the award of the Bar to the Distinguished Flying Cross recently to Flight Lieutenant Ralph Gordon Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Herbert, has been received by his parents from Hon. Colin Gibson, Acting Minister of National Defence for Air, who wrote:

"It is with a feeling of great pride that I once again extend to you and your family the heartiest congratulations on the additional honor and distinction which your son, Flight Lieutenant Ralph Gordon Herbert, D.F.C. and Bar, has earned by the receipt recently of the award of the Bar to the Distinguished Flying Cross.

"The citation accompanying this award reads as follows: 'Throughout two tours of operational duty, Flight Lieutenant Herbert has proved himself to be a skilful and successful pilot and captain of aircraft. The targets attacked include such heavily defended areas as Berlin, Stuttgart and Stettin. His aircraft has been in combat on many occasions. Despite serious damage sustained during two of those combats, he has displayed superb airshipmanship in flying back to base. His coolness, courage and devotion to duty, even under the most hazardous circumstances, have been most commendable.'

"Again may I say that the personnel of the Force are indeed proud of your son's splendid service record.

"With kindest personal regards."

PLAN NEW CHURCH
AT RUTLAND

Clergy Have Narrow Escape in Car Accident

Roman Catholics at Rutland have purchased from Charles Stuart three-quarters of an acre of land adjoining their church and are planning to build a new and larger church there in the immediate future. The present church is to be used as a parish hall, after remodeling.

Rev. J. A. Petrie and Mrs. Petrie met with an accident that might have had serious consequences when driving to the Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery meeting in Vernon on Tuesday, Feb. 27. The car went off the road in the slippery, fresh snow, about two miles south of Vernon, and rolled over two or three times before coming to rest in the adjoining field. The occupants, who included Rev. M. W. Lees, of Kelowna, all escaped with a severe shaking and a few bruises.

Miss Lois Charlton, nurse in training at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, is spending her holidays visiting her father, John Charlton.

Rev. J. A. Petrie left on Monday, March 6, to attend a meeting of the B. C. Conference Mission Board at Vancouver.

Miss Mabel Zimmerman, nurse in training at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, is spending a vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carlson.

Sapper Peter Schneider, of the Royal Canadian Engineers, returned home on Friday from two years' service overseas, during which he took part in the Normandy campaign in France. His wife and his father, Jacob Schneider, are Rutland residents. He expects to take up farming in the district once more upon getting his discharge.

A. Simoneau, of Kelowna, has purchased the J. Schubert house and property on the Belgo bench.

The National Film Board monthly movie show visited the district on Friday last, with a matinee for the school pupils and an evening show for the adults. Amongst the interesting films shown this time were "Timber for Tokyo" and a film show-

The Junior Red Cross of the Rutland School held a highly successful afternoon tea in the music room of the school on Thursday afternoon, March 1. The affair was well patronized and financially successful, the net proceeds exceeding $29.00.

There was a short program by pupils of the school, which included an amusing one-act play entitled "Cora's Callers," the cast of which included Dorothy Gray as "Cora," Marjorie Barber as "Aunt Bessie," Ida Constantini as "Priscilla," the maid, John McGarvie as "Mr. Cinders," Nick Hush as "Mr. Land," and Norman Dals as "Joe Bright."

In addition to the play, there were vocal solos by Helen Heitzman and Yoshi Ikenouye, and a pianoforte solo by Glenys Ellergott.

Mrs. E. Muford and Mrs. A. W. Gray presided at the urns during the serving of afternoon tea. Miss Dorothy Gray, President of the Junior Red Cross, thanked those attending for their support of the club's annual tea. A special project now being undertaken by the members is the provision of a complete outfit of clothing for an eight-year-old boy in Britain, which will be forwarded through the Red Cross.

No doubt you have often asked yourself the question "How shall I go... what method of transportation shall I use?" You will have also found that there are priorities in almost every case.

You cannot jump on your bicycle as you might have done some years ago, or hitched old Dobbin, taking an extra bag of feed along for him. Distances are now too great and we have come to depend on the train, bus, automobile, plane and steamship for transportation.

During the emergency of war, all these systems are, of necessity, strained to the limit and unnecessary travel is discouraged. But many still have to travel and consequently feel annoyance at the difficulties involved.

As in many other respects, Canada has had less convenience and has caused less inconvenience to its travellers than many other countries. This no doubt is partly due to the willingness of its citizens to heed the warning. But there is another reason.

Transportation men from the president down, are pitching in to help... by putting in long hours... giving many pleasures. They have been clock watchers, but, due to the shortage of experienced help, have shown spirit in doing their best at a time when their help has meant delivering goods and passengers to their destination... on time. Hats off to this great industry.

It costs money to be old-fashioned

Under terms of the old-fashioned type of personal property insurance, if you lost anything outside of your own home you were just out of luck. Fortunately, there is now a more modern kind of policy to cover such risks, called the Personal Property Floater. If you lose your hat in a restaurant or your diamond ring whilst travelling, for instance, this policy covers you to the full. Should you wish to revise your personal property insurance on this basis we will gladly supply you with fuller information.

Our modern insurance brokerage service has been built upon such principles as this: In buying insurance of any type for our clients, we always ask ourselves "Will the client benefit?" In other words, we must save money for our clients as well as guarantee complete coverage of the risks involved.

Ours is a record of which we are proud. We serve rather than sell; we determine each policy purchase with the view of a buyer rather than that of a seller. It is our resolve to maintain at all times a standard of extra value, consistent with the client's requirements. This is insurance brokerage service as it should be.

PROVINCE MAY PURCHASE AIRPLANES

May Use as Forestry Patrol—
P.G.E. Again—Labor Legislation

Purchase of six planes, possibly of the Goose type, from the War Assets Corporation set up by the Dominion Government is being seriously considered by the Provincial Government. It has been announced by Premier John Hart, following a conference with Mr. Lt. James Sinclair, M.P., and Hon. E. T. Kenney, Minister of Lands.

These planes would be used for forestry fire patrol work, aerial photography, mineral exploration and other important Government services. Hon. Mr. Kenney explained. The type considered best for forestry work is what is known as the Goose type since it is essentially a transport machine able to carry eight or nine men with equipment. It could be mounted at strategic points for fire combat work. The Province of Ontario already has some 28 aircraft servicing every Government department.

School Improvements
The Department of Education has just completed a survey of 144 schools in the province, and it is expected that from the recommendations contained in this report considerable improvements will be made in lighting conditions, particularly in rural areas. Hon. H. G. Perry, Minister of Education, has announced.

P.G.E. Railway
Further intimation that the railway problem of British Columbia is engaging the Government's attention was disclosed in the announcement by Premier Hart that he intends to have conferences with the heads of the two national railways regarding extension of the P.G.E. to connect with the Northern Alberta Railway so that a rail outlet can be provided for the Peace River district.

In the meantime, American railway and government officials have evinced an interest in the P.G.E. Railway. Their concern, however, is to utilize the P.G.E. in connection with plans to provide a railroad to Alaska.

Labor Legislation
Labor delegations have presented many briefs to the Government during the past few months.

In view of the many proposals therein, it has been decided to submit them to a committee of officials of the Labor Department for study and consideration. This committee will also discuss the subjects with representatives of labor unions.

This announcement was made by Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, who stated that the establishment of the committee was suggested in view of the fact that many of the proposals made by the labor unions were relative to matters at the moment under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government and, consequently, could not be satisfactorily dealt with by the Provincial Parliament at the present session.

HIS SECOND CHANCE

At a casualty clearing station in Normandy blood serum is being given to a wounded soldier undergoing an operation for abdominal bullet wounds. The highly-efficient system of collecting blood that has been built up by the Canadian Red Cross has been responsible for saving many fighting men's lives. Perhaps the serum in this bottle came from your blood donation or that of one of your friends.

Since the Canadian Red Cross inaugurated its Blood Donor Service, 1,000,000 blood donations have been taken at 400 clinics throughout Canada, according to Red Cross reports. The dried blood serum that has been rushed to many parts of the world has resulted in the saving of thousands of lives.

Through the blood banks of Britain, victims of robot-bombing and the great blitzes have been given a second chance to live. In the freezing cold of the Russian steppes and the heat of the Burma jungles blood serum has been made available. The civilian victims of war's cruelty and many an Allied fighting man owe their lives to these Canadian blood donations.

"I'd never had any contact with the Red Cross until I was wounded," said Lieut. Sternberg, a former Kitchener, Ontario, boy now convalescing at Westminster Hospital in London, Ontario.

Wounded painfully in the abdomen while with a Canadian division overseas, Lieut. Sternberg was operated on at a field dressing station by Major Hillsman, R.C.A.M.C., of Winnipeg. So serious was his condition that he could not be moved for three weeks. Unable to eat, he was given alternate injections of blood and glucose.

"I saw the boys given blood serum," he said. "I watched it pull them out of shock. Undoubtedly many, many lives were saved." His outfit was surrounding a Scheldt pocket, where he was wounded. At the casualty clearing station, ten miles back of the big guns, he saw the Red Cross girls dispensing cigarettes and comforts, he told.

SKIBOWL CHRISTIES

Hello again, skiers and fans! In case you are interested, eight inches of fresh snow greeted those who made the trip up to the Bowl last week-end. So, gang, it looks like skiing for a few weeks yet, because, some of us well know, there is a very hard, icy base under those misleading inches of new snow. And that's enough for the snow conditions.

Important happenings at the Bowl have to do directly with ski instruction and those taking part—and those being taken apart (or so they think). Last Sunday was "traversing" day, and from the many different facial expressions one would get the idea that the inventor of the torture rack was a sissy compared to the guy who thought of the "traverse position."

From my reclining position resembling a sitzmark—and who said it wasn't?—I was forced to admire the uncomfortable positions that people will get into in order to keep all their weight on the bottom ski. Always being the type who proves the instructor doesn't know what he's talking about, your reporter started a trip with his weight on the top ski and where did it get me? Just where he said it would—reclining in a nice, deep, cold sitzmark. Although he didn't stick out his tongue at me, the look on Mr. Instructor's face spoke volumes. But about those positions—and skiing is said to be fun. So a guy is supposed to swing his lower hip back until it locks or breaks in half, drop his lower shoulder, lift his upper shoulder, bend his knees and ankles and look where he's just left—and me what hasn't rolled my hips since grandpa quit talking about the first time he tried the French Minuet. It's barbaric, that's what it is—shouldn't happen to humans! But after it was all over and that guy quit yelling about lower ski and watch those hips, I saw some girls and lads trying these new-fangled dips and doodles on the two slopes, so maybe I'll have to do some homework. Imagine the disgrace if I win the "Best Sitzmarker" trophy for the season—and right now I'm well in the lead. The shame of it! So, from now on it gives a nightly session of hip cracking, knee creaking and ankle groaning. As I've said before—ah me, what I go through for that perfect 39½! Alright, so my hips are getting better all the time—but not for long, I hope.

So until next week, then, quit mumbling to yourself about weight on lower ski, drop that shoulder, lock those hips—ee-ow! Where's my scissors and paper dolls?

SCHUSS

"Leave Water Alone" says an editorial heading in the Ottawa Citizen. That's all very well, but sometimes you can't get anything else.

Increased revenue is expected, however, from the electric light and domestic water departments this year, and the expenditure of $13,500 for a new power shovel will be cut in half, following new arrangements to purchase a second-hand machine with the promise of a trade-in on a new machine as soon as it becomes available.

But these increases are not sufficient to make the expenditure and revenue columns come into balance.

"Do you have fits of giddiness?" a doctor asked a middle-aged, stern-looking woman.

"No, I don't," came the snappy retort. "I'm a respectable married woman."

REFLECTIONS

By B. B.

Three things have brought me courage.
Three things I've seen today:
A spider weaving her web,
Which thrice had been swept away;
A child refusing to weep
In spite of cruel pain;
And a robin singing a cheery song
In the midst of a chilling rain.

Spring is an unsettling season of the year. It urges one out of the comfortable rut into which one slips during the shorter, colder days. The sunshine always appears brighter in March and April than during any other months of the year and reveals all the dusty corners which have been overlooked, and also emphasizes the fact that things are becoming shabby. The house needs paint, the garden is untidy, home furnishings look drab! It is little wonder women start house-cleaning operations, because everything in nature calls out for one to bestir oneself. To clean house is commendable, but how men hate to have a window upset. Wise indeed is the woman who does one room at a time—and does it when friend husband is away from the house. Some women will argue that their husbands should help. Looking after the home is the woman's job. She prides herself on her efficiency in this wartime world. Spring house-cleaning is a good time to prove it.

Speaking about homes (I write and you read, but I like to pretend we are chatting, only I have the advantage like the minister in the pulpit, whom you can't answer back), can you imagine living-room draperies made from glass? Sounds rather like a fairy tale, but it is true. They are said to be entirely practical as well as beautiful, and they come in rainbow colors, some having floral and leaf designs. There are textures resembling taffeta, sheers and monk's cloth, and the draperies are entirely fireproof. It is said that the spun glass material is easy to sew on. It needs no dry cleaning and can be washed and ironed. It is not affected by temperature changes, won't shrink, sag or fade, and will last as long as a window pane. When there are small boys around, some of those don't last very long!

We have all heard many stories of the amazing fortitude of the Britishers during the blitzes, but the one I like best, and which is reported as authentic, is that of an elderly woman in a London suburb who was finally rescued from the ruins of her small home by a hefty gang of tough but sympathetic natives. Seeing the old lady was in rather a bad way, one of the latter, noticing a bottle of whisky that had luckily escaped, the domestic debacle, suggested that she should have a good nip. Whereon the victim protested feebly but volubly: "Ere, leave that bottle alone—it's for an emergency!"

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA GOVERNMENT TRAVEL BUREAU

DEPARTMENT of TRADE and INDUSTRY

is the agency which publicizes British Columbia, "Land of Opportunity," to travellers, sportsmen and prospective settlers, literally the world over.

The compiling, publishing and circulating of descriptive and informative booklets designed to convey a comprehensive idea of the Province as a whole, and of its industrial, social and scenic background, has always been one of the Bureau's chief activities.

Normally, it distributes hundreds of thousands of booklets and folders in the course of a year, presenting the attractions of British Columbia as a place in which to spend a memorable vacation, or as a land in which to make a permanent home.

It regularly conducts a vigorous newspaper and magazine campaign to the same end, and through the activities of its Field Representative is constantly widening its contacts and fostering the spirit of friendly co-operation among kindred organizations at home and in the United States.

The making of motion pictures in sound and colour is another and highly effective method by which it presents to thousands of appreciative audiences the impressive grandeur of British Columbia's scenery and its unparalleled opportunities for sport and recreation.

In the dissemination of information to prospective settlers in every part of the world, the Bureau has been so active and so successful that it is the accepted channel through which all such enquiries are handled.

With the assistance of the other Departments it has made itself master of all the facts, and presents them in such a manner—clearly, convincingly and frankly—as to create a feeling of confidence so complete that it has still to meet the first disillusioned settler who has come to British Columbia on the Bureau's representations.

The Continuing Job of the CANADIAN RED CROSS

THE EUROPEAN WAR is nearing its end. That is obvious. Many people, including members of the Canadian Red Cross, have asked us what our job will be if the war should suddenly end.

We reply that we can only see ahead greater responsibilities than ever. Both in Europe and at home the work of the Red Cross must go on. The war will not bring an end to suffering and want, to the care of our Prisoners of War, to our Wounded, and to the millions whose homes and way of life have been dislocated by strife.

We therefore feel that every Canadian has a right to some knowledge of what our responsibilities will be in the event of peace, and just how we propose to discharge those responsibilities. We treat each of our main activities under its respective heading.

PRISONERS OF WAR—With the end of hostilities our Prisoners of War will automatically cease to be Prisoners. Chaos and breakdown in Germany will probably ensue. The German state will cease to care for them. They will become wards of the Allied General in command of the Occupation Forces. Transportation will be difficult, and it will probably take a minimum of six months to repatriate the 2,400,000 Canadian, British and Allied Prisoners in German Camps. The need of Prisoners' Families and Medical Supplies will be doubled. They will be distributed by the Allied Command, and will play a vital part in feeding our men pending repatriation. After the magnificent job we have done during the last five years we cannot let our Prisoners in the Far East will also be a continuing responsibility. We must carry on until every man is back home.

EUROPE'S STARVING MILLIONS—The job of feeding Europe's hungry millions is staggering in its immensity. Over 17,000,000 humans have been torn from their homes. Many have nowhere to rest their weary heads. They are starving. Malnutrition is the rule rather than the exception. There will be an urgent need for food, clothing and medical supplies. The Red Cross in these stricken countries are utterly dependent on their sister societies for supplies to meet these dire needs. Can we let them down? The Canadian Red Cross must go on!

RED CROSS WORK WITH OUR ARMED FORCES—Until the last Canadian soldier has left

Europe and has been discharged from hospital, there will be important work for the Red Cross to do. How long this will be we do not know, but one thing we are sure of and that is that every Canadian at home will want to make certain that our boys will be as well looked after with the coming of peace as they were in war. The care of the wounded both in Europe and Canada is a permanent responsibility which we cannot evade. No Canadian wants to evade it. Here again the Red Cross must go on!

BLOOD SERUM SERVICE—Red Cross Blood Serum has saved countless lives in battle. The end of the war will see the end of painful war wounds. The demand for serum on the fighting fronts, except the Far East, will cease. But the Red Cross Blood Serum Service should be continued for civilian use. If the Red Cross makes it freely available it can save thousands of the lives of our own civilian citizens when war has ended.

PEACETIME SERVICES IN CANADA—Outpost Hospitals, Children's Clinics, District Nursing, First Aid, Home Nursing, Preparation for Epidemic or Disaster, Nutrition and Junior Red Cross are all important Red Cross peacetime services which must go on.

WOMEN'S CLUB ANNUAL DINNER SPECIAL EVENT

Rehabilitation of Women After War is Topic of Guest Speaker

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Kelowna held their annual International Night celebration at a dinner in the Royal Anne Hotel on Friday, March 2. The President, Mrs. G. D. Herbert, was ably assisted in her conduct of ceremonies throughout the evening by the club secretary, Mrs. M. M. Powell.

Following dinner, the President read special messages sent for the occasion to all clubs on the American continent by Dr. Lena Madison Phillips, the International President, and Miss Hilda Hesson, the National President.

The very impressive candle-light ceremony was conducted with thirteen candles representing thirteen countries in which the Business and Professional Women's Club is functioning, namely, Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Canada, Cuba, Finland, France, Great Britain, New Zealand, South Africa, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States. Seventeen blacked-out candles represented the seventeen countries where this organization has ceased to function due to the war. These are: Austria, Denmark, Estonia, Germany, Holland, Hungary, India, Italy, Korea, Norway, Palestine, Poland, Rumania, Spain, The Netherlands, and the Canadian Federation stood between two taller candles representing the International Federation and the American Federation, as the American Federation is the forerunner of the original organization of B. and P. W. Clubs.

Short addresses were given by Mrs. Acland Black, representing the United States of America; Mrs. Wubbe, representing Belgium and Holland; Miss Mary Mar, representing China; Mrs. D. C. Kyle, representing France, the candle which has been relit during this last year.

Guest Speaker

Miss Vaughan-Jones gave the speech of the evening on the "Rehabilitation of Women After the War." She drew attention to various articles that have been appearing in Canadian magazines suggesting that women should not be entitled to equal pay for equal work with men. Quite a considerable discussion arose over the reasons for this attitude which is rearing its head, and it was felt that while it is agreed that soldiers must be repatriated, one must also remember that women who work do so because they often have to support themselves as well as other members of their families.

A comparison of the status of women in Nazi Germany and in Russia was ably drawn by Miss Vaughan-Jones, who quoted many figures to support her statements that Russian women had accomplished amazing things. Sixty-five per cent of the doctors practising in Russia, including Army surgeons, are women. Thirty-five per cent of the members of Parliament are women. No nation can be free until one half of its population (the women) have equal rights with the men, she declared.

Songs, rendered by Mrs. Phyllis Tremblay and two readings on women's rights by Mrs. A. H. DeMara, in costume, added immeasurably to the success of the evening. The tables were decorated with bouquets of daffodils donated by one of the members, Miss M. Bent. Place-cards and programs were adorned with the club's national emblem, which has a place in the Senate Chamber at Ottawa and has the distinction of being the only emblem of a Canadian women's organization which has a place there.

The annual meeting of the Kelowna Business and Professional Women's Club will be held at the Willoughby Inn on Friday, March 23, at 8:00 p.m., on the special invitation of Mrs. A. H. DeMara.

FUNERAL HELD FOR R. W. EVOY OF OKANAGAN CENTRE

Call Meeting to Discuss High School Privileges for Students

Funeral services for the late R. W. Evoy, of Okanagan Centre, were held on Saturday at the Kelowna Furniture Co.'s funeral parlors in Kelowna, with interment in the Kelowna Cemetery.

Mr. Evoy was born in Clarendon, Ontario, and passed away at the age of eighty-eight on Thursday, March 1, at his home in Okanagan Centre, after a brief illness. He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, his daughter, Mrs. A. Williams, of Winfield, a son, John, of Barhead, Alberta, a brother, Silas, of Penticton, ten grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The bazaar held in the Okanagan Centre Community Hall on Friday evening was a very successful affair in spite of bad weather. The school pupils with their teacher, Miss Emilie de Montreuil, sponsored the event, which was a credit to them. The large number of articles displayed for sale and their quality gave evidence of much painstaking effort. Tea was served by the older girls. As the result of the affair, a sum of $39.00 will be sent to the Junior Red Cross.

On Saturday evening the National Film Board put on the regular monthly show, and a very fine addition was the display of two reels which had been secured by the secretary of the Women's Institute from the University of B. C. At the close of the show a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the Institute.

On Thursday evening, March 1, the Women's Institute held a special meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Cooney, when "Canada's Immigration Policy" was the subject of a round table discussion with Mrs. Macfarlane as leader.

The Centre Red Cross sewing circle met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cheesman.

A special school meeting is to be held on Monday evening, March 12, for the purpose of discussing High

Red Cross Funds From Campaign Will Assist Eleven Allied Nations

Liberated Millions Will Share in Collections Made During
March 5th to 24th

Relief to millions of people in China and in liberated countries in Europe will be given through the agency of the Canadian Red Cross, which will act on behalf of eleven Canadian Allied Relief Funds. This is announced by the National War Services Funds Advisory Board and approved by the Minister of National Services. Under this plan, the Red Cross drive, March 5-24, will be the only campaign in Canada this year for relief to these countries.

Collaborating in this plan are the following agencies whose budgets under the Red Cross are as follows:

Belgian War Relief	300,000
Canadian Aid to Russia	2,200,000
Canada-France Relations	1,100,000
Chinese War Relief	1,250,000
Czechoslovak War Relief	450,000
Greek War Relief	1,000,000
Netherlands War Relief	250,000
Norwegian War Relief	250,000
Luxembourg War Relief	10,000
United Polish Relief	1,100,000

Yugoslav Relief 600,000
Spending of these amounts will be left in the hands of the Canadian Red Cross Society in consultation with a representative of each national group. The goods bought will be shipped to the national Red Cross Society in the country to benefit, and distribution will be undertaken by the Red Cross. The cases will carry the identifying label of the relief organization in Canada in addition to the Red Cross insignia.

In addition to the agreement to hold no more drives, it has also been arranged that all amounts received through the auspices of these Canadian relief funds from February 6 to June 26 will be applied against the allotment made through the Red Cross.

The moisture in the snow amounted to three and one-half tenths of an inch to bring the total moisture precipitation for the month to exactly one inch.

The average maximum temperature was 38.5 degrees and the average minimum was 25.5, giving a mean temperature of 32 degrees.

fingers. He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. when he was 16 and will celebrate his 19th birthday in July.

During air operations on the Continent he had to bail out of his plane with the other crew members last October over Belgium, landing in the fighting lines. "I thought I was coming down amongst Germans but, fortunately for me, I landed in the British lines. It was just seven miles out of Brussels."

Interesting Log Book
Glancing through his flying log book is like looking at a map of Germany. The red ink denotes night flights, green for day flights and blue for training flights. It shows that he made two trips in one day over Duisburg, one in the morning and one in the evening. The same crew took Wilhelmshaven in their stride the next night, making three tours in 36 hours.

So young yet experienced in the art of flying, the airman says, "I wouldn't enlist at 16 if I had it to do over again. That is too young for a boy to see so much." He enlisted February, 1943, and went overseas January, 1944, being on heavy bombing command with Lancasters and Halifax's. He claims that the heaviest bombing done by his ship was on the oil refineries in the Ruhr Valley.

Stewart was born at Lacombe, Alta., July 17, 1926, and came to Kelowna with his family in 1931, living here until 1935. His parents returned here again in 1935. He went to school at Summerland and Kamloops.

A brother, Flt. Sgt. John Westley Stewart, 20, is in the R.A.F., now stationed in England. In five days ago, P.O. Stewart received his Army call-up but he is exempt from any service call-up. Now that he has finished his Air Force adventure he thinks he is ready to go back to school. "I'm finding it a bit difficult to settle down and don't know just what I will do," he says.

PENTICTON MUNICIPAL OFFICE MEN LEAVE UNION

Four municipal office workers resigned recently from the Penticton Municipal Employees' Union, but H. A. Andrew, acting Municipal Clerk, stated that he wanted to be represented in his official position as assistant municipal clerk, by the Union bargaining committee. Councilor H. S. Kenyon said he did not think the Council can refuse to meet the bargaining committee on these positions, since it is said to represent all employees it was decided to seek definite information on this point. The Union contends that it bargains for jobs not for individuals.

INTO THE ARMS OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST MOTHER

• LEAVING the lonely ocean between her and her homeland, a "war bride" sets foot at last in Canada.

What a friend-in-need the Red Cross proves to the soldier's wife who precedes her Canadian husband home!

A warm welcome that banishes loneliness—abundant help that drives out feelings of helplessness—and the spirit of sympathy and understanding that dispels anxiety and fear—these are all part of the Red Cross Service showered on the war bride, from the beginning to her journey's end.

But caring for traveling war wives and children is but a small part of the stupendous burden today shouldered by the Red Cross.

As the final push for victory is launched—as the casualties mount—as the carnage of war spreads—everywhere the Red Cross is needed as never before.

This is why your gift to the Red Cross is required now more than ever. This is why you are urged to obey every generous impulse and give willingly, generously now.

HIGH SPOTS

of Kelowna Senior High School News

A glance in the direction of the Kelowna High School reveals an extra-special scurrying around the halls these days. The reason—the coming presentation of two plays, a comedy entitled "The Purple Bedroom," and a tragedy, "The Room in the Tower," which are being acted in the High School auditorium on Thursday and Friday, March 15 and 16, at 8:00 p.m. Any time after four o'clock Mrs. W. J. Logie and Miss E. Barrs may be found in the auditorium, where they are directing operations—telling Queen Mary (Jean McDougall) where to stand, or demonstrating the art of love-making to Lord Fitzdoodle (known to the students as Ronald Henderson). On the stairs you may bump into stage manager Phil Noonan, who is muttering something about "where to put that bed," or you might overhear Pat Chesman and Dorothy Fowler arguing about the correct shade of lipstick for Lady Jane Grey (Kitty Dain). If you see some one poring over columns of figures, it is only Cam Wilkinson (who counts on his fingers) industriously figuring out how much the Red Cross will receive from 60 per cent of the proceeds.

Yes, Kelowna High is all set for its spring debut, the last fling before settling down to those Easter exams! The public is assured of a worthwhile night's entertainment next Thursday and Friday.

BLOOD DONATIONS

Three blood donations are required to make one bottle of dried blood serum, according to information from the Canadian Red Cross. Nine donations are required to give a wounded man a chance to live. Ten donations approximately equal the amount of blood in the human body.

CITY LOTS SELL LIKE HOT CAKES IN TWO WEEKS

Council Sells 28 Lots at Assessed Value of $5,100 at Two Meetings

The total number of City-owned lots sold since they were put on the market after revision of the list has reached 28, worth $5,100. Twenty-three of them were approved for sale at a City Council meeting on Monday, Feb. 26, and an additional five at a Council meeting on Monday, March 5. The lots sold at the latter meeting were assessed at $1,350.

It was decided by the Council that when an application is received for purchase of a lot an investigation will be made to determine what facilities are on or near the property in regard to light and water services, in order that such information may be given to the prospective purchaser as well as to the Council.

Bylaws providing for the sale of lots as follows were given first, second and third readings on Monday night:

West half of Lot 27, Plan 578, at 69 Borden Avenue, to John and Anna C. McLeod, for $300.
Lot 4, Block 9, Plan 462, at 208 Len Avenue, to Norman Alfred Smith, for $415.
Lot 5, Block 9, Plan 462, at 204 Len Avenue, to Douglas Alfred Charles Smith for $415, the property being sold for the purpose of a father wanting to build homes for two soldier sons.

Lot 55, Plan 1277, at 112 Cawston Avenue, to John and Mary Wishart, for $110.
Lot 61, Plan 1039, at 146 Cawston Avenue, to Michael John Kraft, for $110.

Approval was given to a proposed cancellation of Lots 14 and 15, included on Map 2925, which includes portions of Elliott Avenue, Park Avenue, the east lane between Lots 8 and 9 and street between Lots 12 and 13, Map 2925.

PEACHLAND PLANS RED CROSS DRIVE

Pte. Gordon Sanderson Reported Wounded Again

A meeting was called on Saturday by Mrs. T. Twinn, campaign chairman for the Red Cross at Peachland, to arrange for canvassers and districts, and she gave out some supplies. The canvassers and districts are as follows: Mrs. A. West, Trepanier; Mrs. A. Smalls and Mrs. A. G. Wright, town; Mrs. W. G. Renfrew, Mrs. W. H. Sutherland, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. W. E. Clements, above town; C. C. Highway, from Deep Creek to Greta Ranch.

An old-time dance, sponsored by a number of old-timers in aid of the Red Cross, was held in the Athletic Hall, Peachland, on Friday night. It was well attended, with a number present from Sumnerland, Penticton and Westbank. A table lamp was raffled, C. C. Inglis holding the lucky ticket. Mr. and Mrs. I. Jonsson won the first prize for their dancing of an old-time waltz. The sum of $50.35 was turned over to the Red Cross committee, and Mrs. T. Twinn, campaign chairman, thanked the assembled company for their help.

Miss Frances Snyder, B.A., associate secretary of the Christian Education Council, addressed the congregation and the young people at Peachland United Church on Sunday, Feb. 25, on "Problems of Youth." On Sunday, March 4, at a special service at 7:30 p.m., the young people, numbering about twenty, had full charge. Miss Helen Long offered the invocationary prayers, while Miss Joyce Crooks made announcements. Miss Gail Witt read the lesson and Miss Elsie Bradford recited the Lord's Prayer. Miss Ruth Fulk and Miss Mildred Johnson took up the collection. The Junior Choir effectively rendered an anthem. Rev. Dr. A. D. MacKinnon gave an address on "The Only Safety for Modern Youth." Miss Beatrice Cousins pronounced the Benediction.

The W.A. of St. Margaret's Anglican Church met at the home of Mrs. A. G. Wright for their regular monthly meeting. Later, Mrs. V. Milner-Jones served tea.

Geo. Ross, of Vancouver, was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stump.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sanderson that their son, Pte. Gordon Sanderson, has again been wounded.

Mrs. C. H. McNeill and daughter left on Thursday to spend several months at the Coast.

Mrs. C. H. Inglis and children left on Thursday for a visit to Trail.

"Do you think our new neighbors are desirable people?" asked the man of the house.

"Oh, yes," replied the wife. "I watched them unload their belongings. They have a lawn mower and their own garden tools."

UNIQUE CHRISTENING CEREMONY

Four Generations Present at Baptism of John Sydney Watts

Four generations were represented at the christening ceremony when the names John Sydney were bestowed upon the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Watts, of Kelowna. The service was held at the home of the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Watts, Eckhardt Avenue, Penticton, on Sunday, March 4, Rev. R. P. Stobie officiating.

The christening gown was an heirloom robe which had been handed down in the J. L. Hooper family for over seventy-five years. The godmother, Miss Marion Lee, of Kelowna, received the child from his great-grandmother, Mrs. M. Gaube.

J. W. B. Brown was godfather. When tea was served, Mrs. J. L. Hopper, Mrs. F. Kay and Mrs. C. Grevel assisted the hostess. A decorated cake, offset with pink tapers, centred the table. Out-of-town guests included Dr. J. L. Lundy, Mrs. Lundy and family, of Oliver; the maternal grandmother, Mrs. O. J. Williams, of Kelowna, and daughter, Miss Peggy Williams, of Winnipeg.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET HELD

United Church Annual Event Has 126 Guests

The annual United Church father and son banquet was held in the Church Hall on Thursday, when 126 "dads" and "lads" sat down to a repast served by the ladies of the George McKenzie Circle. Grace was said by Bill Dawson, and after the meal a sing-song was led by Cameron Day, with E. B. Beattie at the piano.

The "Tribute to the Fighting Forces" was given by Howard Hardie, while the toast to "The Dads" was proposed by Andy Anderson and replied to by W. J. Logie. Archie Morrison proposed the toast to "The Sons," to which Ron Gee responded. Harry Mitchell gave a short talk on the relationship of father and son, stressing the benefits to be derived from full co-operation one with the other.

A short program, consisting of a quiz contest between two teams of boys, followed by a short "radio" skit, was enjoyed by the dads. The usual games of shuffleboard, ping-pong and quoits completed a very successful evening, of which Gordon Marshall was chairman.

"Sure these Grape-Nuts Flakes are the right bait—I'm fishing for mermaids!"

"Oh—that's different! The gals sure go for those toasty-brown, malty-rich Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

"And Grape-Nuts Flakes give 'em lots of good nourishment: carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; and other food essentials!"

"That, my friend, is because they

—the Grape-Nuts Flakes—are made of two grains—not just one. Wheat and malted barley are blended a special way, then baked, then toasted, to produce that one-and-only Grape-Nuts Flakes flavor and make 'em easy to digest."

"Um... if we were near land I'd take on a cargo of giant economy packages of Grape-Nuts Flakes right now!"

This story is based on an actual case...

"Give me the tools and I'll get back to my job..."

AFTER three years' ground-crew service with the R.C.A.F., Harvey Baxter was returning to civil life, to his wife and three youngsters. In peacetime an electrician, he was anxious to get back to his trade, but he had neither the tools nor the wherewithal to buy them.

Harvey Baxter was discharged before the new government provisions came into effect, enabling veterans to obtain such assistance as he needed. That is why he came to see us.

He had a modest asset in a little farm he owned, but was short of cash. Could we lend him $150 to buy the tools he needed to resume his trade?

Indeed we could—and we did... his proposition was sound and we were impressed by his determination to succeed.

Harvey Baxter set to... bought his tools, got out printed notices advertising the fact that he was a qualified electrician, and, within a few weeks, he had more work than he could handle.

This new B of M customer is well on his way with his own rehabilitation plan. His determination and self-reliance, coupled with a bank loan, have put him on his feet again.

"THE NEED GROWS AS VICTORY NEARS"

KELOWNA'S OBJECTIVE, $25,000

Many of our Canadian boys behind barbed wire in Enemy Prison camps will live to enjoy the peace they so courageously earned, because Red Cross food supplements were provided. . . . Many millions of civilians in liberated countries of Europe are counting on the Red Cross to alleviate their unprecedented sufferings.

We cannot withhold this hand of mercy. We must give to the limit of our ability. Remember this may be the last wartime drive and the last chance to do something for boys in enemy hands who have done so much to assure a peaceful, comfortable living for all of us.

If missed—PHONE 194

Destitution and Want are so urgent and desperate in the liberated countries, that the Minister of National War Services asked the Red Cross, with the collaboration of the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund representing the War Charities of 11 of the United Nations, to include funds for this relief in the national appeal.

C.W.A.C. NEED MORE WOMEN TO AID WAR

Reinforcements are Vital Problem and Canadian Girls Asked to Help

With the ever-increasing casualty tolls coming back from the battle fronts, the need for more and more reinforcements has become Canada's most vital problem, according to the Pacific Command, and enlistments are needed in the Canadian Women's Army Corps to help supply them.

Everywhere in Canada men who have held key positions on home war establishments, depots and headquarters units are being released to serve in the field. The work at home must go on. Dental, Medical, Ordnance and Service Corps units must operate at a renewed speed and with increased efficiency. To replace the men who are on their way to the fields of France, Belgium and Holland, Canadian girls are urgently needed in the Canadian Army.

At the present time the C.W.A.C. are the only Canadian Women's Service who are still recruiting. They are recruiting because in the final analysis in any war it is the Army which must finish the job. Qualified tradeswomen are desperately needed, women who have had experience in dental and medical fields, trained stenographers and typists. C.W.A.C. recruits applying for enlistment will be assured of Army employment in the specific type of work for which they are fitted, or they will not be recruited. Already the Canadian Women's Army Corps has released enough women to form a complete Canadian fighting division in the field. But today the emergency is greater than ever before—the casualty lists are larger. Victory in Europe cannot be won without the wholehearted support from the Army in Canada, an Army which is largely composed of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Warm Welcome

Red Cross Aided Children From Holland To Reach Coventry

Coventry, the first British city to suffer from concentrated Nazi bombing, has been the first to welcome for recuperation a large group of children from bomb-shattered cities of Europe who were aided by the Red Cross.

Through gray wintry mists of the North Sea 500 Dutch children have sailed to Britain and safety. They are aged from eight to fifteen and are the vanguard of some 20,000 whom Britishers expect to welcome before the whole of the Netherlands is liberated.

Thousands of British homes are already waiting to receive these children. Factory workers, clerical men, bank managers, are taking them—city houses, rural cottages and all have open doors for these Netherlands children.

Children's Preparation
But it may be months before they go to private homes. They spent two months in Red Cross camps in Holland and Belgium before they were considered fit for the sea voyage. As their camouflageed ship sailed across the British dock, the boys carried Dutch flags. The quiet eyes of these children from the Low Countries have seen war in all its horror. Most of them have been rescued from the rubble of homes, from basements and ditches in which they had hidden from the Nazis. Some of them were in the first bombing of Rotterdam in 1940. Others were from Eindhoven, Tilburg, Middelburg, from Fushing and Maasticht, from the flooded area of Walcheren and from the battlefields of Arnhem. Some of them hung around camps for weeks, living on scraps of food retrieved from dustbins.

The children told how they had been rescued by British soldiers. It was apparent that they had received odd gifts of clothing from the same source. Blond-headed boys had forage caps jauntily perched over fair hair. A little girl wore a knickerbocker suit cut down from khaki battledress. One schoolboy proudly waved a sailor's hat which had been given him by the seaman who had rescued him from the floods near Breskens. Few of the children had undergarments, and they have all been fitted out with new clothes by the American and Canadian Red Cross.

The people of Coventry gave the children a great civic welcome. A huge banner over the station said, "Welcome to Our Dutch Friends." Workers who had been busy for weeks preparing for their comfort were on the station platform to greet them. British school boys and girls who had spent holidays with Dutch families in Holland in 1938 were there, too.

Learn to Eat Again

The children were taken in a fleet of buses to a former aircraft workers' hostel at Baginton Fields, where they were given their first square meal in months, but they could only nibble at it. They will be given at first only one-third of the food eaten by normal English children. They are not able to cope with a square meal.

There are twenty Dutch teachers, nurses, clergymen and doctors living at the hostel to help with rehabilitation. Dutch cooks invaded from the Dutch merchant navy prepare their foodstuffs. The children are under the care of Mrs. Helen Moelen, supervisor of the well-equipped modern hostel where they are staying. She is a Dutch woman with a family of her own who has been working for the children of Holland since she escaped from that country four years ago. Some of the refugee children are orphans, but many left their parents in Holland. About two thousand more children are expected in the next few months. The hostels in other parts of Britain will be opened to receive them.

RETIREMENT PAY FOR TELEPHONE OPERATORS

Interior B.C. Telephone Operators' Union and Okanagan Co. Reach Agreement

Retirement pay for all telephone operators not covered by the company's superannuation scheme is included in the agreement recently concluded between the Interior B.C. Telephone Operators' Union and the Okanagan Telephone Company. Under this arrangement, those who leave the company after two years' service are given a bonus of one week's pay, and an additional week is paid for every year after that up to ten years. This is in addition to the regular salary payments, on retirement.

The agreement also recognizes the union as the sole collective bargaining agency and sets forth the principle of seniority. Shifts are re-arranged in a manner more satisfactory to the workers, and night operators are to receive a differential pay of twenty-five cents per night. Mrs. Evelyn Tebo, of Penticton, President of the union, has been re-elected for a second term.

RED CROSS ITEMS PUT IN PARCELS

The Canadian Red Cross has an arrangement with the postal authorities whereby any contraband goods that may be removed from parcels sent to prisoners of war by their next-of-kin are replaced by Red Cross items. The weight of a next-of-kin parcel cannot be over eleven pounds. The Red Cross makes sure that none of the parcels is under this prescribed weight.

CONSIDER FUEL FOR KELOWNA

Fuel wood for the City of Kelowna was under discussion at the Council meeting Monday night when Alderman Miller stated that he felt there should be at least 1,500 cords of wood for next winter. The question of seasoned wood was discussed with an agreement being reached that there should be a lapse of six months between the time when the wood is cut to the time of its delivery for it to be termed "seasoned". Two letters had been received by the Council offering delivery of 500 cords each. These were referred to the fuel committee with the power to act on the two bids which had been received.

Mrs. R. Smith returned on Tuesday from the Coast, where she had spent the past month.

More About 1 HOSTESS CLUB

them last spring. Four dances had been attended at the Vernon Camp and a group had co-operated with Westbank at a dance there. She pointed out that activities had been curtailed due to the few soldiers coming from Vernon.

Mrs. B. Lewis, reporting for the House committee, outlined the various improvements made in the premises during the year and the equipment obtained, principally through gifts, but a little by purchase.

The Canteen committee, reported Mrs. W. J. Logie, chairman, had 61 workers, 1,174 light meals were served and 1,402 cups of coffee in addition. The committee's receipts were $456.85. The expenditures were $437.92, leaving a balance of $18.93.

During the year the club was responsible for the billeting of 481 servicemen in private homes, although on several weekends last spring it was necessary to allow many more to sleep on the floor of the clubrooms. Thus the number accommodated was considerably in excess of the figure quoted above. Mrs. R. P. MacLean, who presented the report, also pointed out that for some reason records had not been kept from June 1st to August 12th, and the total would be swelled by the number billeted during that period.

In addition many men had been directed to the C.R.C.'s T.O. H. quarters and to hotels. The week-end of April 29th saw 42 men billeted in private homes.
